Schneider Down's growth featured in PBT

This week, Schneider Downs was featured in the Pittsburgh Business Times to highlight the firm's growth with the expansion of services in the Washington D.C. market, three recent hires that deepen our service offerings and recruiting efforts that have resulted in the largest intern class in the firm's history.

“What it comes back to is, we laid out a 10-year strategic plan in 2020 of what we needed to do to continue to be a strong and vibrant Schneider Downs. We wanted to make sure we remain independent and to do that, you have to continue to grow, serve your clients well and provide opportunities to the people in your organization. We’re looking at opportunities where we are great or where we can be great.”
